How Science Has Evolved:

Views from a Pediatric Forensic Neuropathologist

Lucy Rorke-Adams, MD, Professor of Pathology, Neurology and Pediatrics (Philadelphia, PA, USA)

Dr. Rorke-Adams is the most experienced Forensic Pediatric Neuropathologist in the world. Over her 45 year career she has been contributing to the evolving science of pathology helping to establish objective evidence for diagnosis of shaken baby syndrome. Dr. Rorke-Adams will present the evidence base for this diagnosis which consists of utilizing a combination of clinical, investigative and pathological data which dispels the myth that death cannot be caused by shaking an infant.

MOCK TRIAL

Sun 1:30 – 5:30 PM

Ballroom ABC

Legal challenges to the diagnosis of AHT/SBS are daily waged in courtrooms across the country. Claims are forcefully and repeatedly advanced that “there is no scientific support for AHT/SBS,” that “shaking alone can’t injure children,” that “new science refutes the diagnosis of AHT/SBS,” and that “expert testimony encompassing the medical diagnosis of AHT/SBS is unreliable and should be excluded.” Such claims challenge proposed expert testimony by the prosecution, create reasonable doubt at trial, and overturn convictions. Legal and medical professionals must understand the nature of these challenges, the medical and scientific research upon which such claims are advanced, and the countervailing evidence in order to appropriately present “good science” in the courtroom, educate the court and jurors, and insure that justice is served.

This four hour Mock Trial will examine these and other “defense challenges” through an array of experienced legal and medical experts who will illustrate typical trial testimony from both the defense and prosecution perspectives. Specific examples will be taken from some of the major cases across the country where these challenges have been raised. The Mock Trial exercises will be moderated by scholar Dr. John Leventhal who will ask participants probing questions about their testimony. A fact scenario pertaining to the case presented will be provided in your registration packet.

OPENING WELCOME & KEYNOTE PRESENTATION

Mon 8:00 – 9:30 AM

Welcoming Announcement

Rodney Hammond, Director, Division of Violence Prevention, National Center for Injury Prevention and Control Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (Atlanta, GA, USA)

The Strange Politics of Child Abuse

Ross Cheit, JD, PhD (Providence, RI, USA)

Child abuse was once considered a noncontroversial topic. Now it is often the source of intense controversy. Professionals who deal with SBS know the phenomenon but may wonder why media coverage of cases is often so skewed, and why the views of dubious defense “experts” are sometimes accepted without apparent skepticism. Professor Cheit, Associate Professor of Political Science and Public Policy at Brown University, has been investigating these issues for more than a decade and will share his experiences and wisdom with our conference participants.

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION

Ballroom ABC

Mon 1:30 – 2:30 PM

To Tell the Truth - Examining Defense Witness Testimony in Abusive Head Trauma Cases

Brian Holmgren, JD (Nashville, TN, USA)

Defense witnesses proffer testimony challenging the diagnosis of SBS and AHT in courtrooms across the country on a daily basis. These itinerant witnesses are accorded “expert” status under the rules of evidence and advance claims that challenge decades of accepted medical research under the guise of “new science.” This revealing presentation will use specific and compelling examples of such testimony from actual court transcripts, examining whether this testimony is in accordance with accepted medical science, and more importantly, consistent with the witness’ legal and ethical duty to tell “the whole truth.”

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION

Tue 8:00 – 9:00 AM

Ballroom ABC

The Problems We Encounter with SBS Cases:

Getting to the Truth

Judge Charles D. Gill, Connecticut Superior Court

Judge William Bright, Connecticut Superior Court

Every day judges and juries must try to make sense of the evidence presented in the courtroom and decide who the expert really is and who is telling the truth to be sure justice is served. In shaken baby cases, the stakes are incredibly high because the victim is an infant or child. Judge Gill will offer his candid and pragmatic view of how abusive head trauma cases can go wrong in courtrooms and how we can reduce the errors. He will explain the view from the bench and describe what he feels is needed to get to the truth. This includes how experts need to present their case so the judge and/or the jury makes the right decision. Judge Bright will discuss the use of scientific evidence in cases he has handled and share his thoughts on how such evidence should be presented. His candid legal assessment of such testimony will be an excellent educational experience for the medical and legal professions.

CLOSING KEYNOTE PRESENTATION

Tue 1:00 – 2:00 PM

SBS/AHT 2010: What We Know, What We Must Learn, What We Must Do to Move Forward

Robert Block, MD, FAAP (Tulsa, OK, USA)

Dr. Robert Block is Professor and Chair of the Department of Pediatrics at the University of Oklahoma School of Community Medicine in Tulsa. He is an active member of many organizations and is certified in the new subspecialty of Child Abuse Pediatrics. Dr. Block will review the current state of clinical knowledge; and summarize work to prevent shaken baby syndrome, AHT. He will set the stage for important work we must accomplish soon, and provide insight into the growing denial of SBS/AHT as a clinical diagnosis by defense teams in court cases; and the confusion about “new science” - is it really new, or a sham?

Welcome to Atlanta

Travel within Atlanta Area

Atlanta has a wonderful above ground subway system called the MARTA. The MARTA is a very economical way to travel from the hotel to downtown. It picks up right at the airport and the Buckhead stop is only a short 5-minute walk to the InterContinental Hotel. The InterContinental Hotel is providing discounted parking for attendees of the Conference. Daily parking will cost $8.00, $15.00 self overnight parking and $25 valet overnight parking.

Atlanta Activities

The Buckhead/Atlanta area has an assortment of activities not only for new visitors but for returning visitors as well. The MARTA Train System (stop located five minutes away from the hotel) can take you anywhere through the downtown area. Downtown Atlanta offers several world class shopping venues along with sights for all ages including the world's largest aquarium and the World of Coca-Cola. If you are a baseball fan, the Atlanta Braves will be playing at home during the entire conference. Please visit www.atlanta.net for more information or stop by the registration desk for brochures, maps, or more detailed information.

The Lenox Square Mall, the Southeast's premier shopping destination, is only a 10-minute walk from the hotel. It features several casual dining restaurants and specialty food shops for very reasonable prices.

Special Events

Opening Reception - Ballroom Foyer and Windsor Garden

Monday, September 13, 2010, 5:30 PM

Join us for this year's opening celebration after the last breakout session of the day. Take this opportunity to develop new relationships with presenters, colleagues, family members and other professionals in a relaxed and casual setting. Participants will enjoy free hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar in the InterContinental beautiful central court.

Family Reception - Hope 3

Sunday, September 12, 2010, 6:00 PM – 8:00 PM

Friends and relatives experience an incredible amount of grief when a child is injured or dies due to shaking. Many families have found the conferences help them connect with other families and provide a network for support. We invite you to attend a gathering in honor of the children and families affected by Shaken Baby Syndrome/AHT. Following will be a reception to celebrate the children as well. Music and light refreshments will be provided.

Post-Conference

Abusive Head Trauma: Trial Techniques for Prosecutors

Wednesday, September 15, 2010 8:30 AM – 5:00 PM - Ballroom ABC

Presented by: National District Attorneys Association & National Center for Prosecution of Child Abuse

This one-day course will cover trial advocacy issues in the prosecution of abusive head trauma criminal cases. The course will focus on all aspects of presenting the case to a judge or a jury from pre-trial motions to voir dire through closing arguments. The course will also provide prosecutors with practical tips and techniques for cross-examining the defense witnesses in these types of cases. Participants will be shown a demonstration incorporating the presentation of digital evidence into the trial.

Services for Families/Caregivers

We recognize that families and caregivers of victims of SBS/AHT may need additional support and services during their stay in Buckhead/Atlanta, Georgia. We will make every effort to ensure your needs are met during your stay. The InterContinental Hotel features several rooms that meet accessibility standards.

Respite Room - Trippe 3

Located within the conference breakout area, Trippe 3 will be available for use by victims and family members only. This area is available for debriefing time, networking and will have space for the children to rest. No childcare attendant will be available; parents are expected to watch their own children at all times.

The views presented in the conference sessions or at the exhibits do not imply endorsement by the National Center on Shaken Baby Syndrome, the planning committee or any other conference supporter.
