While We Argue, Children Die: The Consequences of Misinformation

Robert Block, MD, FAAP, President of the American Academy of Pediatrics (Tulsa, OK, USA)

During the last several years, largely due to two factors, an argument about the diagnosis of abusive head trauma and shaken baby syndrome has evolved. The factors underlying the disagreements are; 1) biased and unscientific reporting in law review journals that misrepresent the known science of head trauma, and 2) the introduction of medical evidence presented in courts of law that is not always truthfully, or completely told. Although there is an abundance of solid evidence to support the diagnosis of abusive head trauma, it is imperative that each potential case be thoroughly investigated from child welfare to clinical outcome or autopsy. Continuing research is essential, but limited research funding should not be wasted on disputing obviously unsupported opinions. This keynote address will set the tone for a meeting grounded in science, sharing of experiences, and reporting on research, with the aim of eventually correctly recognizing cases of AHT, and cases with correct and accepted alternative diagnoses.

This presentation will provide a unique opportunity to hear about the challenges physicians have in treating and rehabilitating a child who has severe brain damage resulting from abusive head trauma - with a special focus on neurocritical care. The concept of abusive head trauma as a unique form of pediatric TBI, contemporary perspectives on pathobiology, diagnosis, and both current and novel therapies will be addressed.

The discussion will explore how the medical literature and principles of Evidence-Based Medicine have been used and misused. The presentation will frame how the media influences and affects legal opinions. The discussant will propose some strategies aimed at resolving the current academic and scholarship dissensus.

A Daubert Analysis of Abusive Head Trauma (AHT)/ Shaken Baby Syndrome (SBS)

Sandeep Narang, MD, JD, FAAP (San Antonio, TX, USA)

The scientific literature concerning the diagnosis of physical child abuse has developed over nearly a half century and a few articles in the last two decades have challenged the science for diagnosing AHT/SBS. These challenges, by a small number of physicians, have been used in law review commentary arguing that there is insufficient science to support convictions for AHT/SBS.

Dr. Narang, who is a physician and a lawyer, will review the medical and legal issues surrounding AHT/SBS and will summarize current case law-related to expert testimony on AHT, perform a detailed analysis of the current medical articles on AHT/SBS, with a particular focus on the best recent research, and then conclude with a Daubert analysis of current evidence-based medicine surrounding AHT/SBS.

FAMILY RECEPTION

Sponsored by The Matty Eappen Foundation

SAT 9/29 5:00–7:00PM

CHARLES VIEW BALLROOM

When a child is injured or dies as a result of shaking, the families and friends experience a tremendous amount of grief and often have a desire to learn more about SBS/AHT. This conference provides this opportunity. Many families have also found the conference helps to connect them with others and can provide a network for support. We would like to invite all of these family members to attend a gathering in honor of the children and families affected by SBS/AHT. This reception is open to all conference participants. A light dinner will be served.

We recognize that families and caregivers of victims of SBS/AHT may need additional support and services during their stay in Cambridge/Boston, Massachusetts. We will make every effort to ensure your needs are met during your stay.

PRE-CONFERENCE NETWORKING

FRI 9/28 4:00–5:30 PM

CRISPUS ATTUCKS

Navigating the International Conference on SBS/AHT for the first time can be difficult. It can be hard to decide which sessions to attend and how to process all the information learned. The National Center on Shaken Baby Syndrome will host a pre-conference meeting to help with some of these questions and concerns. This casual open forum will also be attended by families of victims that have attended conferences in the past. This is a great opportunity to network before the conference even starts.
